

Rapport Credit Union to Observe National Day of Truth and Reconciliation

Branches, contact centre and head office to be closed September 30, 2021

TORONTO – August 30, 2021 - Rapport Credit Union, a member-owned financial institution offering a full range of banking services, will be recognizing the National Day for Truth and Reconciliation on September 30. All Rapport branches and head office will be closed on this date and will reopen for service on Friday, October 1.

This day commemorates the tragic history and lasting effects of the Canadian Residential Schools on indigenous survivors and their communities. This day also provides a meaningful way for all Canadians to reflect on, and learn from the past.

“As a values based, collaborative organization, we listen and learn from within our own employees and our communities.” said Kim Leak, Rapport’s CEO. “Our employees felt strongly that supporting Indigenous reconciliation is an important part of being a socially responsible organization. The National Day for Truth and Reconciliation aligns with our strategic theme of positively influencing our local communities.”

Rapport is encouraging you to invest some time on this day to reflect and consider your role in reconciliation today and in the future, at home, at work, and in your community. This is an important step forward in understanding and learning from our past.

About Rapport Credit Union

Rapport Credit Union is a full service financial institution owned by our members. We provide a wide range of banking products, from chequing accounts to loans and mortgages to financial planning and wealth management services. We serve over 17,000 members at 10 branch locations across Ontario, with over 70 employees and approximately $313 million in assets under administration. At Rapport we help members understand their financial situation then work together so they can make the right decisions to meet their goals, today, tomorrow and into the future. That's why we work so hard with our members to help them achieve financial wellness. Rapport Credit Union – Be true to your money. To learn more visit www.rapportcu.ca.

~ ~ ~

Media Contact: Angela Tsiampas, Director, Marketing

P: 416-212-9756 E: Angela.Tsiampas@rapportcu.ca